

Visiting Practitioners

Fee	£300 + £120 materials budget (per installation)
Contract	Freelance/self-employed
Key dates	TBC - Northampton: 6 or 13 April 2024, Corby: 1 June 2024.

About the role

Our Visiting Practitioners (x2) will create free, drop-in creative activities that focus on specific behaviours; changes - to build confidence and practical skills.

Biodiversity: tips and tricks for improving biodiversity in public spaces and at home. For example, seed-bomb making activity (seed-bombs are little balls made of soil, flour and wildflower seeds that can be thrown into gardens to grow).

Zero-Waste Living: practical solutions to purchase less plastic but also how to reuse plastics and packaging at home for creative activities. For example, creative grass-head yoghurt pots.

About the Seedling project

This new project aims to capture and amplify intergenerational stories of multicultural family heritage and communicate these stories through dramatic audio pieces, textile squares, public and school based installations. We will co-create an audio piece with and for primary school children exploring their family heritages and the climate crisis, deliver 2 interactive installations in retail spaces & create an in-school version that will tour as a teacher-led experience.

About Carbon Theatre

Carbon Theatre is a community focused creative organisation based in North Northamptonshire. Led by Courtenay Johnson, our work focuses on creating inclusive, female-centred work alongside larger arts & heritage projects. We aim to make relevant high-quality cultural experiences that are enjoyable and accessible to local people.
